Part 2

Dear Alex,

I'd like to tell you about my favorite shop in Japan. It's called One Coin because all you need to shop there is a 100-yen coin. There are many similar stores in Japan, but One Coin is a little different because nothing is more expensive than 100 yen.

I love this store because it has everything I need to buy for my school and my hobby. I really like wandering around the store and looking at all the things on the shelves. Even if I don't buy anything, it's good fun to look at what the store is selling.

I usually buy things for school. I can always find cute erasers, pens, pencils and notebooks. One Coin is also good for birthday cards and Christmas cards. These are very expensive in other stores, but in One Coin, they are cheap. I'm looking forward to shopping there again soon.

Part 4

Text messaging is a fundamental and powerful form of human interaction. It allows individuals to exchange thoughts, ideas, and information across distance and time. It plays a vital role in various aspects of life, including business, education, science, literature, and everyday communication. Besides the advantages, which include the permanent record of text, it can sometimes lead to misunderstandings or misinterpretations without emotional expression, such as tone or body language. Text messaging has become a valuable tool for our globalized world.
